The Socratic Salesman

The Greek philosopher Socrates was no fan of lectures, and if he were around today, he’d be equally dismissive of sales pitches. He was famous for asking his students targeted questions in order to provoke thoughts, help them analyze concepts, and get to the truth of issues. Socrates knew where he wanted his students to arrive, but instead of simply lecturing them, he realized that he could lead them to epiphany by asking a series of questions in the right order.
