Jeffrey Gitomer is one of the speakers at The Art of Sales, and a “sales expert”. I didn’t recognize his name, but I did recognize the name of his best-selling book, “The Little Red Book of Selling.” He writes about 12.5 principles of sales greatness in his book. Here are three of his principles that resonated with me:

3 Sales Lessons from The Little Red Book of Selling ...

Why Red? Gitomer explains that The Little Red Book of Selling has so much red ink in it and on it for a number of reasons. These include: Red is the color of passion. Passion is the fulcrum point of selling. No passion, no sales. Red is the color of love. If you don't love what you sell, go sell something else. Red is the brightest color.

Little Red Book of Selling: 12.5 Principles of Sales ...

From the red cloth cover to the small trim size to the amusing (but not cloying) cartoons on almost every page, this is an appealing and accessible book. The author is obviously enthusiastic, if not manic, about sales, and though some of his mantras verge on hokey, much of his prose is straightforward and realistic.
