An Overview of Worship in Southern Baptist Convention ...

In order to be genuine, worship must be free, never coerced. Churches ought to be free to determine the day, time, place and order of worship. Because of Baptists' deep commitment to the leadership of the Holy Spirit (Galatians 5:18), such freedom ought not result in confusion, but rather things should be done "decently and in order" (1 Corinthians 14:40).

Baptists: Worship | Beliefs, polity, ministries, practices ...

Although individual Southern Baptist churches are free to practice either open or closed communion (due to the convention's belief in congregational polity and the autonomy of the local church), most Southern Baptist churches practice open communion. For the same reason, the frequency of observance of the Lord's Supper varies from church to church.

That's not an oxymoron in the subtitle, it really does happen—Liturgical Southern Baptist Worship, that is. Drs. Autrey and Wood have given me permission to set the order of worship in chapel this coming Monday, so on Monday at SWBTS Houston we will have a chapel that will, I hope, be something like what the ancient church did when it met for worship. At least, I'm told that the order of worship that we've adapted (Richard Fields did most of the work) "bears resemblance to the ...
